Regents say okay on new Fieldhouse

Steel orders to be placed this month

First expansion project

Progress at Omaha U took a giant stride forward last night. The Board of Regents has approved the construction plans for a new $500,000 Fieldhouse. News of the approval was announced at the football banquet by Frank C. Heinisch, chairman of the Regents' Athletic Committee.

"Just when actual construction will start depends upon how soon we are able to get deliveries on steel," Mr. Heinisch said. "We are anxious to place our order for steel this month, so that we can receive the earliest delivery possible."

He explained, that, as was the case with other building in Omaha, steel ordered in one quarter of the year wasn't delivered until two or more quarters later. "With that to go by, this means that late spring is perhaps the quickest that construction could begin."

Steel for the new structure will cost an estimated $90,000.

The Fieldhouse is the largest of the four attached units of the proposed Physical Training Plant plan which was described in the first issue of the Gateway this semester.

Plans were made flexible enough to allow the other units, an administrative building, gymnasium and stadium, to be added to the Fieldhouse later.

This first building will measure 260 feet by 172 feet. It will have a dirt floor which will make it possible for the football and baseball teams to practice inside. For men interested in track there is a ten-lap mile track with a 60-yard straightaway. Another feature game autographed by OU players and coaching staff to Frank Catania, only graduating player.

A surprise of the evening was a recording from the college at Greeley on which O. L. Troxel, faculty head of Colorado State's athletic board, introduced the football coach, a tackle and an end on their team. They complimented Omaha U football play-

DBP constitution gets forum airing

The embers of the controversial Delta Beta Phi constitution fire have burst into flame again. This time at the AVC forum in the Faculty Clubroom last Tuesday.

Alec Phillips, one of the student advocates of the much discussed fraternity; Bradley Field, president of the Independents; Bruce Chevalier, president of the Phi Sigma Phi and representing the Greek organizations; and Murray Greenbaum, unaffiliated, composed a four-man panel which spoke on the theme, "Should the Delta Beta Phi constitution be admitted to Omaha University?" Panel speeches were limited to five minutes.

Mr. Chevalier, who defended the constitution, pointed out that there were other religious and racial groups on the campus which discriminated, adding, "It's a fraternity's right to limit its membership and the Delta Beta Phi should be no exception."

Other arguments for the constitution were voiced by Mr. Phillips who said, "The benefits of the fraternity's national affiliation will be of value to both the school and the future members of the fraternity."

Mr. Field, although originally slated to speak against the constitution, changed camps and spoke for it, citing arguments similar to those of Mr. Chevalier and Mr. Phillips.

The one panel member who denounced the constitution was Mr. Greenbaum, who prefaced his remarks by answering the preceding speakers' arguments.

"As for progress," Greenbaum

Coffee Hour discusses European aid problem

"How much are we willing to save to aid Europe?" was one of the questions on European aid discussed at the Coffee Hour yesterday in the Faculty Clubroom.

J. D. Tyson was the faculty member on the panel. Students Paul Youngstrom, Richard Holland and Burton Howard led the discussion. Student Council member Stuart Borg was moderator.

Real estate appraisal course offered at OU

The Urban Case-Study Course No. 1 in Real Estate Appraisal began yesterday at the university and will continue through Dec. 5.

The course will cover the fundamental theories, principles and procedures applicable to the appraisal of all types of property.

The course is being presented by the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers in cooperation with the School of Adult Education.

To be eligible one must have had past experience in real estate work and some form of membership in a national real estate organization.

Those interested may see Lewis C. Sholes who is serving as liaison instructor at the university.

Early registration will start Dec. 10

Alice C. Smith, Omaha University Registrar, has announced early registration dates. Students who have attended the university one or more semesters may register for the '48 winter semester between Dec. 10 and Jan. 10 (no registrations will be taken during Christmas vacation however).

Early registration is especially recommended for students who desire a choice of classes and hours. Counselors will post office hours on their doors. Students may register for day and night classes at the same time. Sheets of instruction and registration supplies will be issued at the Office of the Registrar.

Three new courses will be offered: Collective Bargaining, Sociology of Labor Problems and Survey of Spanish American Literature.

New students will register on Jan. 26 and 27, with regular classes beginning at 8 a. m. Thursday, Jan. 29. Changes in registration will be accepted in the Auditorium between 8:30 a. m. and 4 p. m. A fee of one dollar will be charged for a change of program after Feb. 4.

Welcome back, Adam

Adam Kirchofer started back to school yesterday, on crutches. He is the first of the hayrack victims to return to school.

Marilyn Miller and Fred Johnson are still in Immanuel Hospital. The date they are to be released is uncertain.

Donna McFarland, Shirley Ayres and Robert Rumery are convalescing at home.

WSSF drive ends

"The WSSF drive went over much better than any of us had anticipated," said Charles Ammons, president of Alpha Phi Omega. Results showed a total intake of $57.04, four large boxes of women's clothing, 21 shirts and numerous textbooks.

Jack Spaulding, chairman of the drive, went on to explain that, "In view of the fact that we have had two other large drives preceding the WSSF drive, I believe that the students contributed well in comparison to past years." He pointed out that showing of the movie, "Seeds of Desiny," did much to stimulate interest.

The drive, sponsored by the Student Council, and handled by the Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity, began Wednesday, Nov. 19, and ended last Wednesday at 3 p. m.

Contributions ranged from one penny to $5 and from silk stockings to a fur coat.

US foreign policy to be aired at 'World Affairs'

United States Foreign Policy and the Middle East will be discussed this Wednesday in the Auditorium by Dr. Robert G. Woolbert. His talk is in connection with the Institute on World Affairs.

Dr. Woolbert, who earned his Ph. D. at the University of Illinois, is professor of history in the Social Science Foundation of Denver university. Editor of Foreign Affairs Bibliography, he was at one time a member of the Research Associate Council on Foreign Relations.

School honors team; 400 attend banquet

A banquet honoring the 1947 Omaha University football team was held in the Auditorium last night.

Football lettermen, coaches and head cheerleaders from Omaha and Council Bluffs high schools helped university students and Omaha citizens honor the team. Approximately 400 attended the banquet.

Tug Wilson, commissioner of the Big Nine, was the featured speaker. Clarence Kirkland, chairman of the Omaha Parks and Recreation Commission, acted as toastmaster.

President Haynes expressed his gratitude to the team and the coaching staff for the work they had done and the record they made in their first year of football since 1942.

Red Mueller, the football official who refereed both the first and last games Omaha U played, described the progress of the team as "truly amazing."

Another high point of the occasion was the presentation of the football used in the Greeley, Colo.,

There's work to be done . . .

"Ah, would but one might lay his lance in rest,
 And charge in earnest—were it but a mill."
 —"Don Quixote."

It's too bad Don Quixote was slightly nuts. He had a strangely earnest heart and he always fought resolutely for what he thought was right . . .

In a world crawling with "expediency" there is a desperate need for men with the courage of Don Quixote; but with rational minds—men who can clearly see what is right and fight for it "Though the heavens may fall."

Take Omaha University for instance. Most everyone here firmly believes in some racial equality.

But few want to fight for it.

It's a very big job. It means many personal sacrifices, and it can be too easily overlooked.

The trouble is that racial discrimination, like the dragons of knighthood days, cannot be killed by verbal disapproval. Conquest requires direct, unswerving attack, and therein lies the need for intelligent, highly moral Don Quixotes.

But in all fairness, to those we condemn, it may be said that they are not intentionally lax in their convictions. They have offered considerable argument. In the recent Delta Beta Phi controversy they cited some very apparent advantages to having a professional fraternity on the campus. In the bowling controversy they have pointed out the injustice to eligible bowlers caused by cancellation of the league.

These people are extremely practical and there is a lot to be said for practicality, but the trouble with practicality and morality as bedfellows is that morality often gets kicked around.

The Gateway believes this has happened in both incidents. It would like to express formally its definite disapproval of both the national fraternity and the newly formed bowling league.

The circumstances surrounding both differ materially from those which surrounded the Maryville football contest. Whereas the discrimination then was largely the result of understandable error and was fleeting in nature, the present discrimination offers no definite future hope for dissolution.

It is there, in the fraternity's constitution and in the structure of the bowling league, and it won't be removed until somebody does something about it.

The advantages to the few who will profit by the acceptance of the two seem relatively unimportant in view of the moral issue. The fact is, discrimination exists. And it will always exist as long as the minority desire it and the majority acquiesce . . .

One can't help thinking of the honest satisfaction to be found in a clear-cut statement by university officials reading something like this:

"Omaha University stands firmly upon one issue. There shall be no racial discrimination, actual or implied, in the substance of any university activity."

If the Student Council had thrown the whole constitution out the window, if the athletic officials had stood solidly behind a determined, anti-discrimination philosophy . . . But it wasn't done.

We need more men who will "charge in earnest." There's work to be done . . .

Don Harouff: Chemistry offers many opportunities for advancement plus the interest element.

Wayne Shugart: Industrial designing. I believe that art of good line movement is becoming a science. It offers unlimited possibilities.

RANDOM REMARKS

When the pumpkin's defrosting, it's an American custom to get the family together on the last Thursday of November to carve turkey and eat cranberry sauce.

Having almost as many Caucasian-Christian corpuscles as the next good American we observed the custom last week with a few other Americans.

We were seated at the heavily laden table a bare scant few moments when we started feeling quite thankful. It's quite a glowing sensation to realize that there we were about to dig into the one of the fattest birds that we've seen since last year's Tom Tom Revue and, realizing that as long as we didn't take too much of the dark meat, we'd be eating like true Americans.

We all said Grace. And then Grace said, "what in the name of our dear departed Aunt Sophronia's left nostril do you want?"

We shoved a drumstick down her throat and, as she sat there writhing in gravy, we continued with the meal.

There is nothing quite so satisfying as a Thanksgiving dinner and there's nothing quite as commensurate as refusing that third piece of mince pie. Then, for the ultimate in happiness—that which can make one completely imperturbable, a quiet siesta on a long old fashioned sofa. We Americans love our comfort.

To top the Thanksgiving day off, there was the realization that we could sleep late the next day . . . "ah, sleep; sleep that knits up the . . ." whatever Shakespeare had in mind when he wrote those classic words. We did sleep late the next day. About noon we managed to tear ourselves away from our pailasse, snatch a quick brunch and then off to the theater.

We had hardly passed under the marquee, when we realized that we had been here before and, although under perhaps less happier circumstances, we had fared none too well.

It was therefore understandable when the stranger approached us a few paces before we reached the boxoffice and told us that the show was malodorous and, if we had a brain in our oblique head, we'd buy the tickets he had for what he termed, "the hottest show that anyone has seen since the Dean of Students looked at the original script for the Tom Tom Revue," that we did just that, bought the tickets that he had.

We followed the directions that the fellow had given us to get to the place where all this warmth was radiating from. We soon arrived at a spot where there was a gent in a striped coat and a derby hat taking tickets. We went in, and there we were face to face with an amazing sight. The united coal shovelers Local No. 3 had, in protest to mechanization which was putting countless men out of work, eliminated the automatic gizmo from an automatic stoker and replaced it with six stalwart men! We stood quietly wiping the perspiration from our forehead for several seconds. Then we realized that we had been sold American.

fers me a chance to do something that I have always wanted to.

Richard Vrechlavsky: Photography. It is a hobby now but if I had the time and money I'd like to develop it into a profession. Newspaper work looks interesting to me.

New in show biz

By Oscar Beasley

Two more OU students have crashed the Omaha big time. Milton Soskin and Mel Linsman are booked at the Blossom C next week.

According to Milt it's a half hour comedy show which includes some beautiful girls. The boys could use a little audience support, and they're zany enough to be good.

All of you who caught Ralph Carey and his outfit playing at the Dell last week should have been well pleased with what you saw. It was a welcome change from what has been locally of late.

It looks like some of the things past are bound to keep popping up from time to time. Latest and probably the best to date is a re-issue of Benny Goodman's most famous records in the Let's Dance album. On these re-issues Benny shows some of the great music that made him famous and features many of the then-and-now greats of the swing world. In addition to the Goodman clari, is some fine work by the late Bunny Berigan on The King Porter Stomp.

Stage show for the week ahead is Lionel Hampton and his orchestra. Hamp just finished a run at the Meadowbrook in California and, judging from the few air shots that were piped in, the band has lost none of its old drive.

In addition to the regular run

AVC, YPCA protest Delta Beta Phi frat

The American Veterans Committee and the Young Progressive Citizens of America have sent letters to President Haynes protesting the approval of the Delta Beta Phi fraternity. The constitution of Delta Beta Phi, national business fraternity, has been approved by the Student Council by a 9-4 vote and is now in the hands of the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs. The Faculty Committee has made no decision as yet.

The letter, drafted by the AVC Executive Committee, consisting of Gordon Watters, Joseph Mangiamale, Milton Mallory and Leopold Hoppe, states in part, "We should like to recommend that the administration of the University of Omaha take its stand by refusing to approve the charter of Delta Beta Phi and further by reviewing the charters of all student organizations now functioning on the campus."

The American Veterans Committee does not believe that the Student Council has acted in the best interests of the university or according to the wishes of the student body in approving the charter . . .

The YPCA letter reads: "It has come to the attention of the YPCA that the University of Omaha is sponsoring an intramural bowling league in which Negroes will not be permitted to participate, due to the discriminatory policy of the establishment where the league is to bowl . . . also that the formation of the Delta Beta Phi . . . has been approved by the Student Council despite a formal constitutional limitation of its members to 'Christian-Caucasians' only."

The letter continues, "YPCA urges you (President Haynes) to exert your full influence to finally and completely stamp out prejudice at Omaha's Municipal University. The first step in this direction must be the cancellation of all activities which discriminate on basis of race, color, creed or national origin."

"YPCA appeals to you in hope of a final move that would end this controversy and lend to democratic spirit." The letter is signed by Marcell Johnson, chairman of YPCA in Omaha.

stage show, Lionel is going to present a special Carnegie Hall concert at midnight Dec. 1. Unlike the regular brand of Hampton music, this show will emphasize classical and semi-classical numbers. This should really be worth seeing. The concert is for the benefit of the Good Fellows Charities, Inc.

Coming in the near future is United Artists' Christmas Eve starring George Raft, George Brent, Joan Blondell and Randy Scott plus many more. The picture is setting a few minor records across the country. It might even regain a little of Hollywood's lost prestige.

When are we going to have some playable music on the juke box? The present records aren't even being played enough to be worn out. It would be nice to hear a few new records for a change.

Prof-files

The "rolling stone gathers no moss," adage doesn't hold true in the case of Dr. Frederick C. Von Wicklen.

Commuting 225 miles each week-end Professor Von Wicklen has found, on the contrary, that a little "rolling" is necessary in order to earn the "moss."

Since his wife Jane, his 11 months old son William Edward and his home are all in York, Neb., he commutes weekly between York and Omaha.

Professor Von Wicklen taught at York College for a number of years before transferring to the University of Nebraska. In September of 1946 he came here from

Dr. F. C. Von Wicklen

Lincoln to coach chemistry students in the science of atoms and elements.

"During four months of each semester," he commented, "I also teach astronomy in the 'unnatural' science classes."

Astronomy is one of his favorite hobbies, but there are no facilities here for studying the stars. His other favorite hobby, hiking, is crowded out by his activities as teacher, commuter and co-sponsor of the Chemistry Club with Professor Stageman.

While studying at Ohio State University Dr. Von Wicklen switched from electrical engineering to chemistry. In that field he went on to earn his B. S. and M. S. degrees at the University of Louisville in Kentucky.

Eleven years later he was given his Ph. D. and the title of Doctor at Columbia University.

About his plans for the future he commented laughingly "the less said, the better."

"However, my main ambition is to do as good a job as possible of teaching chemistry under the crowded conditions that prevail," he added.

Letter received by the Veterans Administration: "My wife left me. Nobody supports me now. I don't have a dime. I want to go to school and learn to write books and things. So please send me $65 every month."

SCHOLAR SKETCH

Those of you who applauded the last two Tom Tom Revues also applauded the efforts of Tom Vierling without knowing it. Tom was property manager for the two revues.

Tom, who hides a clean-cut profile behind a pair of lenses and under a fedora, is definite about his politics.

"I'm a Republican. I don't approve of anything Truman has done, and Dewey in the White House would suit me fine." He thinks the United Nations is based on good principles but so far has accomplished little.

The 24-year-old ex-Pfc. with three years of Army life behind him, has had a pretty liberal education. After taking the Army's aptitude tests in 1943, Tom, who is working for a degree in Business Administration spent nine months in an Army engineering school. The year before donning khaki he spent at the University of Nebraska where he became affiliated with Sigma Nu, the fraternity of such band leaders as Johnny Long, Kay Kyser and Glen Miller.

Thomas J. Vierling . . . definitely a Republican.

From engineering school, Tom joined the 102nd Infantry Division and shipped overseas to spend the next 18 months in Europe. At the end of the war, he became a jeep driver, in preference to guard duty.

During the war, Tom was a radio operator for a heavy weapons outfit. While he was operating a radio in the basement of a house, the town was retaken by the Germans. His radio destroyed by German artillery fire, and the lieutenant with him dead, Tom sat for the next eight hours, huddled in a corner of the basement, his 45 in his lap, just waiting.

When the Americans retook the town the next morning, an American soldier threatened to toss a hand grenade down in the basement if no one answered. Tom answered, but promptly. However the soldier didn't believe him and was going to bomb the basement anyway. After reciting his name, address, serial number, life history, and all the cuss words in his vocabulary, Tom finally convinced the soldier that he was a Yank.

During his stay in Europe, Tom visited Bavaria, Holland, Belgium, Austria, France and Czechoslovakia. On his way home, he stopped at Monte Carlo and the Riviera.

Tom resumed his business administration course at OU in June of 1946.

Tom's greatest dislike is movies, especially double features.

His time is taken up by school, and working in the office of a wholesale grocery house.

As far as his future is concerned, Tom would like to continue his education when he finishes here. Perhaps at the University of Colorado.

Department store floorwalker laments unsympathetic pre-Christmas shoppers

Every day in the year, excluding Sundays, I stand in the middle aisle of a large downtown department store and tell teen aged girls how to get to the dress department where I know they will paw over dresses they have no intent to buy.

I instruct middle aged women to the teen department where they will squeeze their size 40 frames into a size 14 dress. I direct seemingly thousands of fidgety females to various departments where they will exchange articles that have already seen more exchanging than a Christmas necktie.

With a sly wink from the older men I tell them where they may buy a suitable present for their secretaries, and to the blushing young man I point out the ladies lingerie department.

Yet, just before Christmas is the worst time of all. Endless numbers of women with screaming babies, befogged men doing the shopping for the wife and boys looking for a present for the girl who already has everything found me and question me until I swear I'll not stay to see another Christmas. And then there are the returned veterans who know only one word . . . "charge."

However the worst sting of it all is the unsympathetic nature of the crowds. They do not realize how they would miss some one to tell them where to find the long underwear, the perfume, pipes, picture frames, toys and bobby pins.

The next time you see a floorwalker go up to him and shake his hand. The shock may bowl him over but it will restore his faith in human nature . . . Thank you.

LETTER MEN GET STARTING NOD FOR CAGE OPENER AT WASHBURN TONIGHT

Coach Harold Johnk and his 1947-1948 edition of the Omaha University Indians will make their debut in Topeka, Kans., tonight against a strong Washburn University club.

Saturday night the Redskins make their first Tech High appearance, against Wayne Teachers. Don Pflasterer's Papooses open their slate in the prelim at 8:30 against Wayne B.

A week from tonight Washburn will repay Omaha's visit at Tech. The Papooses meet Van Sant Business School in the opener.

Washburn Coach Ad Miller has six letter men and a "potentially good crop of first year men." Miller pulled his team into second place in the Central Intercollegiate ate Conference last season.

Tallest of the regulars is Bob Powell at six feet, four inches. He plays the post.

Duane Melvin, who played half-back for the Washburn football squad which topped Omaha, 21-6, won a cage letter last year and is back for another season.

Other letter winners are Tom Carlson, Wayne Warner, Al Rupp and Dick Lofquist.

Omaha Coach Johnk said last week that he would stick by his returning letter men to open tonight.

Mike Landman, who has been the Indians' biggest offensive threat the past two seasons, will start at one forward. Johnk was undecided on Walt Matejka or Glen Richter at the other forward. Richter was out the second half of last season with a leg fracture.

Ray Schmidt is the center. Rog Sorensen and Lou Clure will perform at guards. Jerry Easterhouse is the other returnee.

"If we make the first basket there will be a substitution," Johnk asserted.

Fifteen men will make the 168-mile trip. Non-letter men who are scheduled to make the journey:

Lupe Joe Arenas, Don Berg, Don Fitch, Steve Lustgarten, Frank Slogr, Johnny Wray, Joseph (Buddy) Yambor and Al Carrillo or Larry Christensen.

Johnk had special praise for Arenas, Berg and Wray, besides the veterans. Arenas, who just completed quarterbacking the footballers, has been an impressive worker on the court.

Berg, center from South, started quickly and has done some nice backboard work. Wray has used his height effectively and has been improving steadily.

At 25, Landman and Wray are the oldest, while little Buddy Yambor is youngest at 17. Yambor is also the lightest at 140 pounds and is tied with Fitch for being the shortest at 5'8".

There are no 200-pounders on the squad, but Carrillo is 193 and Slogr 192. Eight men are six feet tall or over. Slogr is highest at 6'4".

The tallest aggregation Johnk could put on the floor would average 6'2½".

Richter was appointed to captain the Indians in their opener tonight, as announced in yesterday's Flash Bulletin.

The vital statistics for the varsity:

Omaha cage fans won't know their Indians Saturday

Living in Kansas has one definite advantage over living in Nebraska.

Especially living in Topeka, Kans.

Tonight the residents of that city will see the Omaha University basketball team all decked out in its bright new warm-up finery.

Omahans will have to wait till Saturday when the Indians open at home against Wayne Teachers.

About those new warm-up uniforms.

They are white satin. The jacket has a red stripe down the sleeve and red and black cuffs. The pants have a very narrow red and black stripe down the sides.

The Indians will sport another innovation when they take the floor against Washburn tonight.

The black shoes of past seasons have been replaced by white ones.

Catania 'robbed' of TD

Frankie Catania, only, graduating senior on the football squad, was "robbed" of credit for the touchdown he scored against Washburn at Topeka, Kans., this season.

The Gateway and other newspapers had Catania throwing a pass to Archie Arvin in the end zone for the score. Actually, Arvin was forced out of bounds on the six-yard line. Catania ran around end for the marker on the next play.

This development moves Catania into a tie with Bud Abboud for season scoring honors with three touchdowns for 18 points. Arvin finished with two touchdowns instead of three.

A young man dashed breathlessly into the office at 9:05. "Sorry I'm late," he told the boss. "I just met my old commanding officer, and he let me off at the wrong floor."

Honor 53 lettermen at football banquet

Of 26 "A" team footballers awarded letters at last night's Football Banquet only one will be lost to next year's squad through graduation.

And that's Frank Catania, half-pint seatback and sole member of the 1947 team who played pre-war football here.

Coach Lloyd Cardwell presented "A" team letters to:

"B" team letters went to:

Bill Alford, Ray Atkins, Bob Bathen, Howard Baright, Bob Barrett, Bill Bruning, Charles Budka, Loren Carey, Kenneth Croft, Larry Christensen, Ed Costello, John Cronin, Doug Epserson, Don Flecky, Robert Graves, Gerald Greer, Robert Hamlin, Ray Hassiak, John Jones, Bill Klein, Bob Mercurio, Bernie Malone, Reuben Pierce, Bob Stedman, Del Ward and Dale Woods.

Present puck squad of 22 to be trimmed at next practice

Townsend, Bernhard make Colorado journey

Final 1946-47 OAHU Standings

	W.	L.	T.	Pts.	G.	O.
Haines	5	3	3	13	38	28
Russells	4	4	3	11	36	28
Murphys	4	5	2	10	36	32
Harveys	4	5	2	10	30	37

Harveys won the playoff title.

The roster of the Ice Indians, Omaha University's entry in the Omaha Amateur Hockey League, has been trimmed to 22 men. Practice time for OU has been set for 10:15 p. m. every Thursday night.

At the half way point of this coming workout, the squad will be cut to 16 or 17 men.

A scrimmage is on tap. It will be a dress rehearsal if the new uniforms arrive in time.

Particular attention is expected to be devoted to the defense, which needs strengthening.

The present roster lists two goalies, six defensemen, four centers, three right wings and seven left wings. Coaches may be forced to shift some players from their present position.

The roster:

Goal tenders—Russ Gorman and Alan Pascale.

The eligibility ax chopped off only one member of the squad. John (Whitey) Jones, who probably would have started in the nets, was the victim.

There is at least one man at every position, except goalie, who has had experience in the league. The goalies "have been improving" according to Al Townsend, a member of the "selecting committee."

Sammy Lavitt, Omaha Knights defenseman, was at the last practice giving the boys some pointers.

Three OU players—Al and John Townsend and Bob Bernhard—will make the trip to Colorado with the OAHU All-Stars. The 14-man Omaha squad will leave tomorrow night for a two-game series against Colorado College of Colorado Springs. They will return Saturday or Sunday.

Bernhard and the Townsend brothers and the other squad members, earned the nomination on their play in the league last year.

If this year's star squad makes a good enough showing, the trip may be made an annual affair.

Last year's race was the tightest ever in the five-year OAHU history. Three points separated the first and last place teams.

Haines copped the championship in regular season play with 13 points. Harveys won the playoff title.

Russells, Omaha U's first foe on this year's slate, ended in second place with 11 markers.

Three Omaha U men finished high in the individual scoring list. John and Al Townsend, who skated with Russells, both scored eight goals. Al added five assists for 13 points and third place in the league.

John had three assists to tie Lynn Miller, who had seven goals and four assists, for fourth at 11 points.

Bob Bernhard, with Murphys last season, notched two goals and four assists, for six points. Bob Wetherbee had one assist with Haines.

Dick Knight, Haines, won the Fire Parsons Memorial Trophy for the second straight season. He had 16 points.

Bob Boosta, Murphys, also had 16 points to tie Knight for scoring honors. But Knight was awarded the trophy because he potted 10 goals to Boosta's five.

George Zenchuk of Haines had the best defensive average among goaltenders. In 11 games, Zenchuk allowed 28 goals, a 2.5 average.

Ray Dryden, who played with Haines last season, has taken over the coaching job this season for Harveys, Haines and Russells.

Volley tournament today

The Women's Intramural Volley Ball tournament, conducted by Lucille Franco, will start Dec. 2 with the Phi Deltis pitted against the Pi O's. All ten of the matches in the tournament will be played exclusively by sororities and Independents.

The Gateway's All-American selections for the 1947 gridiron season will be announced in next week's issue. A first and second team plus an honorable mention will be picked.

Intramural spotlight shifts to nine-team volleyball scramble

Volleyball entered the Intramural picture this week with nine teams entered in the single elimination tournament which started late yesterday afternoon.

Alpha Sigs were scheduled to meet Central in the first game in the Quonset Hut while Phi Sigs were slated to play the winner in the second tiff.

The schedule for the rest of the week: Wednesday—North vs. Alpha Phi Omega; Friday—Outstate vs. South and Tech vs. Benson.

Semifinals are to be played next Monday. Finals and a consolation match will be run off a week from tomorrow.

Each match will be two out of three games. Fifteen points is a game. A team consists of six players and any team unable to put six men on the floor will be forced to forfeit.

Two matches will be played four of the five nights during the tourney, the first game starting at 4 p. m.

Because of the ban placed on the fraternity, Thetas will be unable to defend the championship they won last season. However, since the fraternity is being punished as a group and not as individuals, the members may play with the alumni teams of their various high schools.

Papoose cage team gets 12-game card with three other contests on the fire

B squad opens against Wayne College Saturday

A 12-game B team basketball schedule was announced yesterday by Athletic Director Virg Yelkin.

Yelkin said he would like to fill three of the open dates on the card.

The schedule lists seven home games, all of which start at 6:30 and will be played at Tech as preliminary games before varsity tilts.

The Papooses open against the Wayne Teachers B squad Dec. 6 in a preliminary to the varsity clash between the two schools.

Little Jerry Babcock, who did some fancy shooting for the Bees last season, will captain the Papooses against the Wildcat seconds.

There are four trips lined up for Don Pflasterer's charges. They will travel to Sioux City and LeMars, Ia., and to Lincoln and Fremont. The other away game is at Creighton.

Five schools fill most of the dates on the card. The Junior Varsity has two games each with Morningside, Nebraska Wesleyan, Creighton, Western Union and Midland.

Last week Coach Pflasterer drilled his hopefuls hard to get them ready for the opener with

Sport pages sport new basketball style today

If you've noticed that "new look" on the sports pages this week, Fred Scheuermann will feel well rewarded.

The Gateway sports editors knew that the football sports cut that has marked their pages would fill the bill only as long as the grid season was on. But come December the nation's collective sports mind would turn to basketball, outdating the football idea.

Needless to say, neither of the editors possess the talent necessary to turn out the drawing.

Fred volunteered to try his hand. The basketball drawing that appears at the top of this page for the first time this week is the result of his efforts.

Wayne Saturday.

He is working with about 15 candidates and will cut to 12 soon. During last week's drills, Pflasterer was too busy whipping his squad into shape to think much about which five boys will take the floor for the opener.

Moreover, he indicated that three holdovers from last year's B team and two newcomers would probably get the call.

They are Forwards Jerry Babcock and Bobby Green, Center Dick Nelson, and Guards Joe Cupich and Don Flecky. Babcock, Green and Nelson are the returnees.

But he added that many of the other squad members will see plenty of service.

Here are the others who have been working out:

Ed Van Steenberg and Brad Johnson, squad members last year; Vern Shires, a 1945 varsity letter winner; Paul Sorensen, no relation to varsity standby Rog; footballers Bud Abboud, Archie Arvin and Bob Bathen; Bob Murray, Dick Kirkpatrick, Dick Hautzinger and Newell Breyfogle.

Marine representatives recruiting for reserves

Marine Corps representatives are at the university, enlisting both veterans and non-veterans for the Organized Reserve. The recruiters will be stationed outside the lounge from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. starting today and continuing all week.

Disabled veterans are eligible.

Members of the reserve are issued full uniforms and are eligible for the correspondence courses offered by the Marine Corps Institute.

Notre Dame will top Southern Cal for perfect slate

The stock of the Gateway Football Expert took an upward turn last week with games of Thanksgiving Day and Saturday.

With the season drawing near its close, the experts call 19 right over the two-day period, missed six and saw three tilts end in a tie for a .760 percentage.

That performance boosted their season's average—338 games, 234 right, 90 wrong and 14 ties—722.

Football takes a break after this Saturday. There will be few games after this week until the bowl games and other post-season contests are played late this month and Jan. 1.

There are only four tilts slated for this Saturday.

But one of those four could easily be billed as the biggest game of the year. It's the meeting of the giants—Notre Dame and Southern California—at Los Angeles.

Both teams enjoyed open dates last Saturday, so they should be in top shape for this showdown tussle.

The Irish have been ranked No. 1 in the nation most of the season, relinquishing that title only briefly to Michigan. Now, only the slimmest of margins separate Notre Dame from Fritz Crisler's squad. And the Wolverines have already finished their season unbeaten and untied.

So, if Southern Cal should upset the Irish, it seems likely that the National crown would pass to Michigan, undisputedly.

Coach Jeff Cravath's Trojans, like Notre Dame, have had a very good year. They, too, are unbeaten, but have a 7-7 tie with Rice on their record.

Saturday's contest could give Southern Cal a great deal of prestige for its coming Rose Bowl battle with aforementioned Michigan.

It all adds up to a tight game and some good football for those lucky enough to get tickets to the game.

Notre Dame should finish unbeaten.

Compared to the Irish-Trojan hookup, other games Saturday appear relatively unimportant.

A citizen of New Orleans would probably take hurt exception to South, Alpha Sigs and Outstate took an early lead in the newly formed Intramural Bowling League, which began operations at the 40 Bowl last Tuesday.

The loop rolls into its second week with four games on tap this afternoon starting at 4. The Benson-Outstate clash looms as the top match. None of the three leaders will meet each other.

Last Tuesday, South bowled over 2,117 pins for an average of 141 per man per game to cop three straight games from Central.

Benson took two out of three games from North. Alpha Sigs and Outstate joined South at the top of the standings as Beta Tau Delta and Phi Sigs forfeited three games each, respectively.

Jack Watters turned in the high game, a 204. It was the only 200 game of the afternoon. Watters also knocked down the most pins during the session, 470.

Harold Hlad, who oiled in two of South's three games, has the best average thus far, 163.

Charlie Budka placed second behind Watters with a 180 game and 464 total pins. Watters has the No. 2 average, 156.

Tuesday's 15 high games (with bowler's averages in parenthesis):

Jack Watters, Alpha Sigs 204 (156); Charles Budka, South, 180 (154); Andrew, Alpha Sigs, 173 (145); Roland Anthony, Benson, 171 (119); Harold Hlad, South, 169 (163); Joe Hefti, North, 166 (139); Mardell Ward, Benson, 163 (153); Warren Christie, South, 157 (151); Bill Phelps, Outstate, 157 (135); Bert Naroddi, North, 156 (147); Paul Matthews, Alpha Sigs, 154 (125); Ernie Firmature, Outstate, 150 (135); Tom Krist, Benson, 149 (133); Rich Clark, Benson, 149 (120); Emerson Dappen, South, 146 (125); and Irvin Ruderman, Beta Tau Delta, 146 (102).

"All participants showed great enthusiasm," Intramural Supervisor Don Pflasterer commented. He also was pleased with the good early season scores most teams turned in.

However, because of what Team Manager Irvin Ruderman describes as a lack of enthusiasm, that statement. Because Saturday, Louisiana State and Tulane tangle in the latter's Sugar Bowl Stadium in New Orleans.

Both outfits have been up and down. LSU scored wins over a strong Rice eleven and over a good Vanderbilt squad. The one bright spot in the Tulane season was the Green Wave's victory over Alabama.

Tulane will not find another bright spot in its meeting with LSU.

In the Southwest, two teams with good records hook up in what should be a good game. Utah University should edge Arizona at Tucson. In the same state, at Tempe, the host Arizona State Teachers will be treated rudely by their guest, Hardin-Simmons.

The Gateway Football Experts will give their crystal balls a rest until it comes time for bowl selections.

Communist—a fellow who has given up hope of ever becoming a capitalist.

Beta Tau Delta is dropping out of the Intramural picture.

Tech will replace the fraternity in the bowling loop starting with today's matches.

Forfeits will not be counted as games played in the Intramural Bowling League standings. However, the defaulting team will be given three losses and its scheduled opponent three wins.

The defaulting team's opponent will bowl, nevertheless, to keep its average.

explained, "the only real progress for a university is an extension of democratic principles." "Discrimination by any race or religious group is bad," he added, "and if a religious group wishes to hold meetings they should confine them to their place of worship. The Delta Beta Phi is a professional fraternity, however, and therefore should not discriminate because of creed or color," Mr. Greenbaum explained.

"And as for individuals profiting from such an organization," he continued, "it is likewise reasonable to conclude that the Ku Klux Klan is similar in that it offers much the same advantages."

Mr. Greenbaum then pointed out that the University of Colorado recently instructed all student organizations to remove restrictive clauses from their constitutions. No new organizations which have discriminatory limitations will be permitted on the CU campus.

"Nebraska U's student body also recently voted to drop from the Big Six if the other members of the conference insisted on discrimination against races," he added.

Questions from the floor were addressed to panel members following a brief question period among the panel itself.

"You may not eliminate racial discrimination by legislation, but it is vicious to legislate in favor of it," Mr. Greenbaum concluded.

William E. Daugherty, professor of government, speaking as he described it "in the capacity of an individual and not a faculty member, expressed his regret that such an undemocratic principle be condoned and added that as a Caucasian Christian himself he felt that he should speak in the defense of the minority groups involved."

"It is natural that people of a special interest should form a communal interest group, however, communal interest does not restrict itself to race, color or creed," he concluded.

After the forum Alec Phillips said, "I hope the Faculty Committee will make a decision commensurate with the moral issue involved."
